

We are a provider of specialty papers, vinyls and films. Upon request, our company will provide sample sheets of our products at no charge to our customers so they can determine if the particular substrate will work with their imaging device/inks. The Illinois Department of Revenue is claiming that our company owes Use Tax on the cost price of these sample sheets that are distributed to our Illinois customers.

I am looking at Illinois Title 86, Section 150.206 of the Administrative Code “Interim Use and Demonstration Exemptions” and want to fit what we are doing into this exemption. Has anyone had any success with utilizing this exemption under this circumstance?

1. Our tax expert at McGladrey who specializes in the printing industry sales and use tax matters might possibly help this person. Please contact Bob Kolosky, Robert.Kolosky@mcgladrey.com, 312-634-4622.